COAL COMMISSION FOR THIS COUNTY

OFFICIAL WORD RECEIVED TODAY BY MEMBERS.

GARRETT IS CHAIRMAN

Will Watch Local Welfare in Connection With State Authorities—To Meet Today.

A coal commission for Nodaway County has been appointed by Governor Hyde to serve until such time as the dangers of a coal famine have passed. W. O. Garrett, E. E. Williams and James B. Robinson of this city have been named as members of the county commission. The members of the commission will meet this afternoon to discuss the matter. Official notice was received this morning of their appointment.

This committee is to act in behalf of local shortage and in conjunction with the State Coal Commission, as the latter in turn is acting in co-operation with the federal authorities. This committee will be expected to look after the welfare of its own citizens and keep the state commission fully advised.

In his letter to Mr. Garrett, Hugh McIndoe, chairman of the state fuel commission, writes:

"In order to properly distribute the available coal supply the President of the United States has appointed a Fuel Distribution Committee and asked the Governors of the various states to set up similar organizations.

"Governor Hyde has appointed the commission for your county comprising of yourself as cairman E. E. Williams and James B. Robinson.

"Your county fuel committee will be expected to immediately make a survey of the coal on hand at various points in your county, dividing the classification between public utilities, public institutions, hospitals, hotels and restaurants, producers and manufacturers of foodstuff, and residences. Ice and refrigerating companies will be treated as public utilities, and laundries will be treated as hotels and restaurants. You should also ascertain the amount of coal that will be needed with in the next sixty days. If coal is being produced in your vicinity from what are known as wagon mines, please give full information. Your report should be forwarded to this commission at the earliest possible date.

"Within the next forty-eight hours there will be forwarded to you blanks on which applications for coal may be made. You may distribute these blanks to such applicants as may desire coal and return them to this commission with your approval. No coal will be supplied except for necessary current use and then only to the classes of applicants hereinabove set forth.

"Will you kindly acknowledge receipt of this letter advising whether we may expect your cooperation?

"I may add that the Governor will commission each of the gentlemen on the County Fuel Committee but there are no funds to pay any salaries or expenses for this work and it must, therefore be performed as a patriotic duty."

REPUBLICANS TO NAME CANDIDATES

COMMITTEE TO MEET TUESDAY TO FILL PLACES ON TICKET.

WILLIAMS FOR JUDGE

It Is Said Maryville Man Will Run—Charles Armstrong of Barnard for Judge.

The Republican County Committee will meet in Maryville next Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of selecting a candidate for probate judge and a candidate for judge of the county court from the south district. There were no candidates for these places before the primary, and it is up to the county committee whether to fill these places.

E. E. Williams of Maryville is prominently mentioned as the candidate for probate judge. A number of Republicans have urged him to make the race. It was thought that the committee will unanimously name him if he will consent to run.

The Barnard Bulletin this week suggests the name of Charles Armstrong as the Republican candidate for judge of the south district. J. E. Goforth, committeeman from Grant, is working hard to line up the other committeemen in the south townships in favor of Armstrong. The Bulletin says:

Mr. Armstrong, should he be the choice of the Republican convention Tuesday, will make one of the strongest races ever made in Grant and White Cloud townships, for he is recognized as being a valuable man in any capacity, having a mind of his own and a determination to do what he considers right without fear or favor. Politics will be laid aside in these townships and the vote will go pretty solidly for Armstrong should he be the committee's choice.

Other men are being considered, the most popular one aside from Armstrong being Fred Robinett, who is chairman of the Grant township board. John Neil was also considered but has refused to accept the candidacy should it be tendered him. A man from Hughes township is also being considered but at this time we were unable to learn his name.

W. C. PIERCE FOR STATE CHAIRMAN

MARYVILLE BANKER IS BEING URGED FOR THE PLACE.

IS STILL UNDECIDED

Efforts to Get Mr. Pierce in G. O. P. Committee Race Continue—To Meet Brewster Sunday.

W. C. Pierce may be the chairman of the new Republican state committee. Efforts are being made, it is said by Governor Hyde and R. R. Brewster, the Republican candidate for United States senator, to get Mr. Pierce to accept the place. The new state committee meets September 12 to perfect their organization.

While it is known Mr. Pierce does not want the place, yet it is thought he will be unable to turn down Governor Hyde, Mr. Brewster and others who are urging him for the place. Mr. Pierce has been suggested several times for chairmanship of the Republican state organization but he has always declined.

The following article is taken from last evening's Kansas City Star:

W. C. "Cal" Pierce of Maryville began to loom as the choice of the Republican organization leaders as chairman of the new state committee. Pierce thus far has declined to be a candidate for the place, but pressure is being brought to force his acceptance. He will be here Sunday for a conference with R. R. Brewster, nominee for senator.

Dr. E. B. Clements of Macon is now the leading candidate for the chairmanship. He probably will be elected at the meeting of the committee, September 12, unless an agreement is reached by the state administration leaders on Pierce or James Finch of New Madrid.

Brewster is understood to be using his influence to induce Pierce to accept the chairmanship. Pierce is reported to be highly acceptable to Governor Hyde.

Among the Reed Democrats, William Igoe of St. Louis, former member of congress, is being considered for chairman of the Democratic state committee. Some of the Reed leaders desired Ed Glenn of Pike County, manager of Reed's campaign, but he probably would draw a fight from the Wilson members of the committee. Joe Shannon of this city also is being urged for the chairmanship. The Wilson supporters, who will control the new committee, have not brought out a candidate. Their objection to Igoe probably will be that he worked for Reed in the recent primary.

W. O. GARRETT TO ATTEND MANY STATE FAIRS

Leaves for Sedalia Sunday—Has Western and Southern Trips Planned.

W. O. Garrett, a member of the breed promotion committee of the Poland-China Association has a very extensive itinerary planned for his work during the next five months. Mr. Garrett's headquarters are at Maryville, but his work takes him to most of the state fairs in the western and southern states.

He will leave Sunday for Sedalia to attend the Missouri State Fair. From Sedalia he will go to Des Moines next week to attend the Iowa State Fair and to Lincoln, Nebr., the following week.

While attending the state fairs in these adjacent states, Mr. Garrett will spend his week ends at home. Accompanied by his wife he will leave here about September 10 to attend the Kansas State Fair at Topeka, and then for an extensive western trip which will include the state fairs at Yakima, Washington, Salem, Oregon, Boise, Idaho and Butte, Montana. Mrs. Garrett will return home from there and Mr. Garrett will go on to Peoria, Illinois to the National Swine Show.

He also has a southern trip planned which will include Dallas, Texas and Little Rock, Arkansas, returning to attend the Royal Stock Show at Kansas City in November and the International Live Stock Show at Chicago in December.

REED SLOWLY WINNING STATE

PARTY SOLICLARITY EXPECTED BY ELECTION TIME.

PRESIDENTIAL TALK

Boom Started Here and in Washington to Make Him Party Nominee.

By William F. Sullivan.
International News Correspondent

St. Louis, Aug. 18—Antagonism towards United States Senator "Jim" Reed, foe of Woodrow Wilson, within his own party in Missouri apparently is gradually dissipating.

Anti-Reed Democrats were numerous and open in their denouncement of his renomination in the recent primary until the statement by Breckinridge Long, the defeated candidate on the Democratic ticket, that he was willing to abide by the official announcement of the voters' decision.

Until that time talk of contesting the nomination of the Senator was heard on all sides, but through it all Reed's opponent remained silent. Some of Long's friends were attempting to persuade him to run as an independent candidate, but he finally came out and officially announced his refusal to the people of Missouri in words amounting to "Thy will be done."

"Choice of the People"

He declared, however, that he believed himself to be the choice of the Democrats in this state and that if the voting had been confined strictly to the parties he would have been the nominee for the Senate to run against R. R. Brewster, of Kansas City, next fall.

Long, in his statement declining to run independently estimated the Republican vote in the primary at between 40,000 and 50,000 and that this decided the Democratic nomination in Reed's favor.

"It was unethical, illegal and wrong ful for them (Republicans) to vote in our primary, but owing to a defective primary law there is no remedy." Long summed up his view of the situation.

Some of the bitter anti-Reed Democrats who probably will cast their votes against the Senator in the election, have been planning to enter a woman as a third candidate next fall, but the movement has not gained any recognized strength in the state, nor has it the backing of any of Long's staunchest leaders. Mrs. W. W. Martin of Fayette, Mo., is being talked of as the candidate to be supported by the antis, but the movement is still in the shaping stage.

Oppose Woman Candidate

The old"dyed-in-the-wool" Democrats naturally are not favoring any such policy, and a far different attitude is being assumed in many places. These Democrats are appealing to the party for a united vote to re-elect the nominee named in the primary.

At Marshall, Mo., a "Reed-for-President" Club has been formed, with an initial membership in the community of 2,400, which reflects the attitude of the staunch supporters in other parts of the state also.

Reed is working for a united Democratic party in Missouri and hope to carry away a victory in Missouri next November. In a statement before returning to Washington, Reed thanked his friends for their primary support and predicted victory for the party in the election.

PRESIDENT GIVES HIS MESSAGE TODAY

ASKS FOR LEGISLATION TO DEAL WITH SITUATION.

FOR COAL INVESTIGATION

Severely Criticized Both Sides of Raid Dispute—Condemned Acts of Herrin and Train Desertions.

Washington, Aug. 18.—President Harding went before Congress today and delivered his message summing up the situation of the twin coal and railroad strikes and asked that legislative steps be taken to deal with the present situation and to safe guard against the repetition of it.

In the coal situation, the President recommended first, he be given authority to create a national coal commission to investigate the whole industry. Second, Congress should consider the immediate creation of temporary national coal agency with needed capital to purchase, sell and distribute coal carried in interstate commerce.

In the railroad strike, the President did not recommend legislation except in so far as it relates to the protection of alien workmen. He severely criticized both sides of the rail dispute. He described the railroad labor board as entirely inadequate to deal with the situation and declared it would have to be strengthened.

The President condemned in bitter terms the acts of violence from the Herrin massacre to the desertion of trains on the desert at points in Arizona.

He said it was resolved to use all the power of the government to maintain transportation and to sustain the right of men to work. He criticized the rail executives for their hard boiled attitude and warned there is a campaign to break the unions. He criticized the unions for their unyielding attitude.

The President said the Herrin incident will always be a blot on the national shield. He expressed the wish that federal courts be empowered to go into situations such as Herrin to mete out justice.

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN NODAWAY COUNTY

PROFITEERING THROUGH THE TARIFF.

Having been hailed into court for illegal price fixing schemes, the linseed oil mills have turned to Congress and Congress has tentatively adopted a duty of 3½ cents per pound on linseed oil (paragraph 50) and 40 cents per bushel (less drawback) on flaxseed.

A duty of 3½ cetns per pound on linseed oil is so excessive as compared with the duty on flaxseed that major manufacturing industries, including over 3,000 manufacturers of paint, varnish, linoleum, furniture and hundreds of other products the surfaces of which must be protected with linseed oil, will be forced to submit to an excessive increase in cost of this basic material that cannot be justified under the most liberal application of the protective tariff principle.

As the United States produces only 40 per cent of the flaxseed needed to supply our industries with linseed oil, 60 per cent of our supply of linseed oil must be imported either in the form of flaxseed or linseed oil.

Tariffs on linseed oil in excess of the actual duty necessary to compensate for the duty on flaxseed are not for the protection of American labor. There is very little labor required to operate the machinery and presses in linseed oil mills. The Extract of the Census for 1919 shows that the wages paid in linseed oil mills was only 2½ per cent of the value of the products produced, yet Congress has tentatively granted the linseed oil mills of the United States an excessive and indefensible duty on linseed oil which will be collected from the American public at a hug cost. Operators of a simple separating process, hardly entitled to be called an "industry," are given the privilege of exploiting thousands of American manufacturers of paints, varnish, linoleum, furniture, automobiles and thousands of other products the surfaces of which are protected with paints and varnish.

American farmers and inhabitants of agricultural communities purchase 50 per cent of the linseed oil consumed in the United States, in the form of finished products. American farmers will pay one-half of the outrageous linseed oil tariff if it is enacted into law. One-half of the total cost of $34,580,000 or $17,290,000 will come out of the pocket of American farmers or five times the sum of $3,600,000 which American farmers will collect by means of the duty (30 cents per bushel) on their flaxseed. The tariff on linseed oil (3½ cents per pound) and on flaxseed (40 cents per bushel less drawback) will result in a loss to American agriculture of $13,690,00 and yet this excessive duty has been written into the tariff bill at the behest of the linseed oil monopoly, aided by a Senator representing agriculture.

A popular and comparatively inexpensive summer resort is the water cooler.

The burning question now is "Where can I get coal and what will it cost,"

From this on there will be two of them. Major David A. Reed of Pittsburgh was sworn in yesterday as a United States senator from Pennsylvania.

When a man buys a ticket for a vacation trip now he feels just a little nervous and the agent doesn't help it any when he suggests that the puchaser had better take a little accident insurance too.

The official returns show that Breckinridge Long went to St. Louis and Kansas City with a total majority of 43,478 and Senator Reed came out of those two cities with a majority of 49,420 which gave him the nomination by 5,942. Long carried 89 out of the 114 counties and carried fourteen counties by more than 1,000.

It has remained for an American newspaper correspondent to chatter another of our precious idols. He has failed to find chop suey in China just as a great many people have been surprised to find that hot tomales and chili con carne are not the prevailing articles of food in Mexico. It is said that "China Chop Suey" is an American invention gotten up years ago by an American chef in San Francisco. But the American people love to be humbugged and they are willing to pay for the privilege. It is sometimes a shame to disabuse the public mind.

M. U. DAIRY EXPERT GIVES DEMONSTRATION

Talks at Ravenwood Picnic and Tells How to Produce Good Cream.

A dairy judging demonstration was conducted in connection with the Ravenwood picnic yesterday and a lecture on the dairy interests of Nodaway County was held in the afternoon by E. M. Harmon, dairy specialist from the agriculture extension division of the University of Missouri, who has been working the past two days with Roy A. Kinnaird, county farm agent.

Mr. Harmon took a class of four or five dairy cows and pointed out the good and bad points of the different cows and explained the points to be sought in the purchasing of a high class dairy cow.

In his lecture before the visitors at the picnic yesterday afternoon Mr. Harmon pointed out two ways in which dairying might be made more profitable in Nodaway County. The first was to improve the quality of dairy cows used; the practical way to do this is through the use of pure bred dairy bulls from high producing stock. He said that it was not practical for a group of men to go into a dairy region with the expectation of buying outright enough cows to stock up their farms all at once. But by using pure bred sires from a high producing stock it would be possible to have dairy cows, in the second generation, that would produce twice as much milk and butterfat as their dams.

The second way to make dairying in this county more profitable is to produce a higher quality of products. To demonstrate this point Mr. Harmon gave an example of the Harrison County Dairymen's Association who are producing a large enough quantity of cream to attract good buyers and by taking the best of care of the milk and cream and keeping it cool and under very best sanitary conditions and delivering it frequently they are able to produce cream which is seventy per cent, is graded as extras which at present is selling at thirty-four cents a pound.

This is only possible where each farmer is willing to take the necessary care of his cream and is milking a large enough number of cows that he can deliver cream frequently enough to have a high grade product and where enough farmers are milking cows so that the volume of business of the community will attract creameries which put out high class butter.

Mr. Kinnaird said this morning that Dairying would not be made a major project in the work of the farm bureau this year. Promotion of the dairying interest in the county would be made by the people gradually getting more cows. He thought it possible that in different places three or four members of a community who are conveniently located will buy an extra good dairy sire.

He said that it would be much better for three or four men to go together and invest $400 in a good bull than for each of them to put $100 in ordinary bulls.

DIVORCE IS DENIED WOMAN WHEN INSANITY IS CHARGED

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 17.—No matter how cruel a husband or wife may be, if the offending spouse is insane divorce cannot be obtained in Georgia.

This, in effect, was the ruling of Judge W. D. Ellis in Superior Court here in proceedings brought by Mrs. Susie Moody, who sued W. W. Moody for divorce, alleging that while insane he mistreated her.

Judge Ellis sustained a demurrer to the petition on the ground that if it admitted Moody was insane it then showed no cause for action, "there being no legal cruelty possible of commission by an insane person."

The case will be appealed to the Supreme Court.

Wonder how many Maryville people ever saw the "shadow of a doubt"?

Many an outward laugh has concealed an inward groan observed to us the other day.

Local bootleggers are clever you must admit. A friend told us the other day that a well dressed man stopped him on Main street the other day and asked him for a match. As he reached to accommodate him Mr. B. L. whispered the day's liquor quotations in his ear.

Do you know of a greater pest than the man who reads the movie titles so half the theatre can hear him?

Any man who reads the papers has to admit that these are striking times.

A Maryville man told a friend in our hearing at the cigar counter the other night that he made a remark to his wife that so angered her she has not spoken for a week. "For the love of Pete what was it"? asked the friend in breathless interest.

Uncle Abner says it doesnot take long for the average man to trade his ideals for ideas.

Edison may not know it but he came very near discovering perpetual motion, judging from the way some people play their phonographs.

It is not hard for some Maryville people to have more money than brains.

From the amount of criticism the modern flapper has received we wonder if she will be as severe on the younger generation when she becomes the older generation.

Have you not often wondered what would happen if the housewives would form a union and call a general strike?

A locksmith was arrested recently by the police in a raid on a gambling room. "What were you doing when the police came?" asked the judge. "Making a bolt for the door", he replied.

We venture to say there are more golf windows in than any other kind.

"How long has that clerk worked for you?" we asked a merchant friend the other day as we watched the salesman moving slowly about. "About two hours" he replied. "Thought he had been here longer than that" we said "He has, six years",

The observer of the passerby says the purses some of the girls carry look more like traveling bags.

A young man grew desperate in pressing his suit to a young woman. "If you don't accept me I will hang myself on the front porch" he cried in desperation, "Mercy, don't do that father does not like to have young men hanging around."

Vagrant Musings.

Many a girl has shown her gratitude to the fellow who has spent all his money on her by marrying some one else.

The man who says he never kissed a girl will lie about other things also.

For one who is ruined by his enemies there are hundreds who are ruined by their friends.

Wonder how many men would be satisfied if their dreams should come true.

The only way the meek will get the earth or anything else will be to inherit it.

GENTRY COUNTY SHERIFF DALE BROWN IS MISSING

Efforts Being Made to Have His Affairs Straightened Out—May be Shortage.

(Albany Ledger).

The actions of Dale Brown, the Gentry county sheriff, are under a cloud, and efforts are being made to have his affairs straightened out, if the rumors that are about are true. If the conditions are as those interested fear they are, it is a bad situation for the young man.

It has been common talk for months past that the young man had been neglecting the duties of his office, and that he had been heard of too frequently with people not of the standing that a young man should make his companions, especially an officer representing the people. It would probably have been "good politics" for us or some one else to have begun to criticise the officer for his conduct and derelection of duty earlier in his career as sheriff, but we had hoped he would see the folly of his course and change his ways and look after the business of his office. There have been weeks at a time that he did not show up at his office, his deputy, W. C. Kinman, having to look after the affairs of the office.

We refrained from publicity censuring Brown on account of his youth, hoping it would not be necessary, and we would not for "politics" or ulterior motives try to discredit a young man or blacken his reputation. For this reason we have kept silent.

But things have gone on and on, and those who are financially interested in the bond of the officer have had to take action. Last week there were reports that some fees had not been turned into proper channels, but whether such is the case cannot at present be substantiated, as Brown has been gone some time and efforts to find him have not been successful to this time. The father of the sheriff has guaranteed to make good any deficit that might be in the young man's account.

On Monday a number of the sheriff's bondsmen from Stanberry came to Albany and secured the services of an attorney towards getting off of the bond, as they realize conditions are far from what they should be, and they do not want to be caught financially.

It may be that the affairs will be straightened out satisfactorily, and it is to be hoped they may, but at present the father and bondsmen would like to know of the sheriff's whereabouts.

A Peculiar Twin Apple.

I. C. Roelofson brought to the Barnard Bulletin office the first of the week an apple that is peculiar in that it is a twin apple. It has two stems running from the apple which join into one. Two blossoms are at the other end of the core. The apple resembles the Siamese twins for there seems to be two nearly perfect apples joined together.

Again, What's In a Name? Missouri Towns Example

Buchanan isn't in Buchanan county, Mo., DeKalb isn't in DeKalb county, Linn isn't in Linn county, Green City isn't in Greene county, Boonville isn't in Boone county, and a host of other Missouri towns bearing names identical or nearly the same as those of counties are not located in the counties of nominal relationship, a glance at the Missouri postal directory will show.

"How so?" one might ask. "Wouldn't it facilitate matters and make for a more readily understood geographical knowledege of the state if the reverse were true?"

Yes, it doubtless would, the answer is but apparently little thought was given to that when some of the Missouri towns, whose names bear a striking similarity, or even exactly the same name, as other Missouri counties, were christened.

Some in Same County.

But all of them with similar names are not in some other county, another glance at the postal guide will reveal. Cape Girardeau is in Cape Girardeau county, Carrollton, is in Carroll county, Gasconade is in Gasconade county, Ironton is in Iron county, Jasper is in Jasper county, Lewiston is in Lewis county, Linneus is in Linn county, Montgomery City is in Montgomery county, Polk is in Polk county, St. Charles, Ste. Genevieve and St. Francois are likewise in the counties which bear their names and other examination might be cited.

Nevertheless, those counties without towns which are related to them by name are in the majority. Add these to the list of misfits: Bates City belongs not in Bates county, but in Lafayette; Boonesboro and Booneville are in Howard county, not Boone; Camden is in Ray and Camden Point in Platte, not Camden county; Carterville is in Jasper, not Carter; Cedar Gap, Cedar Creek and Cedar Grove are not in Cedar county, but in Wright, Taney and Shannon, respectively.

Other Towns in Same Class.

Clarksburg, Clarksdale and Clarksville are not in Clarke county, but in Moniteau, DeKalb and Pike counties, respectively; Cole Camp is in Benton, not Cole; Green Castle, Green City, Greenfield, Green Ridge, Greensburg, Green Top, Greenville and Greenwood —none of them are in Greene county; Irondale and Iron Mountain are not in Iron county, but in Washington, and St. Francois; Jefferson City is in Cole, not Jefferson county; Lewis Station isn't in Lewis county, but Lewiston is; Linn and Linn Creek are not in Linn county, but Linneus is; Marion is in Cole county, not Marion; Miller is in Lawrence, not Miller county; Ozark is in Christian, not Ozark county; Raytown isn't in Ray, but in Jackson county, and Saline is in Mercer county, not Saline.

Mixtures Found Here.

Kansas has its Kansas City, Kan., the same as Missouri has Kansas City, but how many persons know Missouri has also a Missouri City in Clay county?

Did you know there is a Nursey in St. Louis county? Or an Eight Mile in Cass and a Ten Mile in Butler?

Romance can be found in Ozark county and in Benton county there is Wisdom, while Barton county claims Wise.

Cass county has an East Lynne, and Douglas has Rome, while Monroe has Paris. In Douglas there is a Pansy, but in Gasconade there is Tea and Washington claims distinction with Sunlight.

DOG RAISING IS VERY PROFITABLE MEN SAY

Men Around Barnard Find Ready Sale for Pups at Good Prices—One Female Nets $200 a Year.

(Barnard Bulletin).

A business equal to that of raising hogs or cattle may spring up around Barnard. People have tried everything from cattle to chickens, but the best pet around here seems to be dogs.

There are three men who make dog raising a definite sideline for the money there is in it. One has the Setter and Pointer breed, one has the Airdale and one the Scotch Collie. And all are enthusiastic about the profits to be derived from their work aside from the pleasure of having the dogs.

C. L. Phillips has three handsome female dogs and has just recently purchased a big fine male pointer from Dwyersburg, Tenn., a dog whose sire and grandsire were six times champion in important meets. Phillips has already shipped many young dogs and has received fancy prices for them. He said that each female would average him a net income of $200 a year, aside from the receipts from his studs.

Roy Manley has the Airdales and has recently built a kennel for his dogs. He keeps two or three females and one stud dog. He has sent dogs into many parts of Missouri and other surrounding states and gets good prices for his pups.

Homer Stalling has what he calls the natural heeler Scotch Collie. One man in answering an ad. asked him what he meant by "natural heeler"—did he mean he would heal naturally if he got hurt? Stalling has sent dogs to Texas, Oklahoma and a large number to distant places in Missouri. He said he was about to run out of dogs from his last litter. He plans to keep more females in the future and do a larger business.

So if one gets tired of raising hogs, or chickens just try dogs.

A TRUE RAT STORY

Auburntown, Tenn., 6-22-22.
Stearns Electric Paste Co., Chicago.
Dear Sirs: Mr. Robert T. Donnell of Auburntown, Tenn., came in our store the other day and wanted something to kill rats, so I sold him a box Stearns Rat Paste. And he put some paste on six biscuits that night and the next morning he found fifty-four big rats. And the second night he put out four more biscuits with paste on them, and the second morning he found seventeen more rats, making a total of seventy-one rats in two nights, and there were lots more that he did not find.
This is some big rat tale, but, nevertheless, it is so. Just thought would write to let you know that your rat paste is good.
Respectfully, KENNEDY BROTHERS.

A PLEASANT PLACE FOR GENTLE FOLKS.

REED SLOMLY WINNING STATE

Presidential Boom Talked

At Washington Reed's friends are offering to come to this state and take the "stump" to re-elect him to the senate. He was welcomed back to the Capitol warmly b yhis colleagues and immediately the buzz of a boom for President was started.

While possibly a little early to be discussed seriously his political friends in this state nevertheless are laying the foundation for building support for his Presidential candidacy.

At present, however, their attention is directed to next November's election, when the nation will watch with deep interest an exciting contest.

His opponent, R. R. Brewster, is an "old guard" Republican and showed in the primary to have a powerful backing throughout the State. His poor showing in the city of St. Louis was assigned to the fact that the "wet" issue which his nearest opponent favored met with the approval of Republicans in this city.

However, with the "wet" issue discarded in the election and the Republican voters duty bound to support their party candidate, the contest will be sharply fought and the result anxiously awaited.
